How your company attracts, trains, manages and retains its human capital may be the difference between success and failure in today's global competitive economy. Since 1980, IHRIM has been the voice and advocate for HR information management professionals – providing knowledge and solutions to help its members manage information and technology.

Why IHRIM Corporate Membership?

An IHRIM corporate membership is an investment in your human capital and a personal development program. Your company owns the membership and therefore can transfer membership between individuals when job responsibilities change. Corporate membership pricing starts below the regular renewal rate price for as few as five members. Plus value added products and services are only offered to corporate members who also purchase the HRIP Certification Program Bundle. Transcend boundaries and accomplish the strategic goals for your company with the help of an IHRIM corporate membership.
